The Sheriff and His Accomplices in the Conspiracy Indicted.

A New Financial Scheme for the Atch-

Interstate Commission.

By Telegraph to the Times.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—[By the Associated Press.] The Grand Jury finished the investigation of the Flack divorce case at noon today. Foreman Fosdick read the presentment which stated that the jury was satisfied that there was a wicked conspiracy. The fact that such a conspiracy could be carried out under cover of the law was of great public concern. The jury was of great public concern. The jury was of great public concern. Testimony should be taken by judges in open court. The harm which would be done by the publicity of such evidence would be far less than that which befalls when things are done in secret.

"It is obvious," runs the presentment, "that the decree of divorce could not have been obtained without the sanction of Judge Bookstaver. That sanction was obtained partly by decelt and imposture and partly either by judicial needlence or judicial collusion; if by negligence, such was inexcusable; if by collusion, such was oriminal; we have not determined which."

As to Lawyer Wright, while it might be said he intended no wrong, still he deserved to be censured. As to 'Ambrose Moneil and Joseph Weeks, the jury thought they had imposed on the Court, and had obtained the livore by collusion, decest and fraud. The presentment concluded by stating that the jurors had come to the conclusion that a wicked and criminal conspiracy had been committed, and the persons whose names appeared to be treated according to law.

District Attorney Fellow's states this evening that the following persons indicted in connection with the Flack conspiracy case would be in court tomorrow to plead: Sheriff Flack, William L. Flack, his son; Judge Ambrose Moneit, counsel for the Sheriff. Thomas Weeks, reteree in the divorce proceedings; Mrs. Raymond, co-respondent in the case, and George D. Hart, brother-in-law of the Sheriff.

HEARING COMPLAINTS.

Grievances Against Railways Before the Interstate Commission.
CRICAGO, Sept. 30.—[By the Associated ress.] The Interstate Commerce Com-Press. | The Interstate Commerce Com-mission this morning began hearing cases. The most impertant is that of the Interstate Commerce Railway Association against the Chicago and Alton Company. The com-plaint sets forth that the road made a contract with a syndicate of cattle dealers at Kansas City for shipments east of cattle which practically amounts to a rebate. The matter was argued at great length. After recess Judge Cooley announced that the question would be taken under advisement as to whether the case in its present form should be considered by the commission. A decision on this point will be given tomorrow morning.

indications slightly in favor of the Democrata.

As to the situation in Washington, a dispatch from Tacoma says: The fight between the two parties has been largely waged on the tariff issue, with the passage of the Constitution, the State Capital question and the adoption of prohibitory and woman's suffrage planks coming in as side issues. The Kepublicans prophesy the election of their entire ticket, with majorities ranging anywhere between 8000 and 13,000. The Democrats concede the election of Ferry for Governor and Wilson for Congressman, but claim a division of the Supreme Court judgeships. The Republican chairman claims that the Legislature will be Republican on joint ballot by a majority of 30. On the other side, the Democrats claim the Legislature, on joint ballot by 10. Council to the fact that the elevator in the City Hall building runs only from 9 a.m. till 5 p.m. of each day.

That said elevator has been put in at great expense, namely about $5000, mainly for the accommodation of the public who are patrons of the library.

That a very large number of the patrens of said library, including also the school teachers and pupils of the public schools visit it, of necessity, after 5 p.m., and up to the closing of the library.

That the elevator having been put in mainly for the use of the library should be run during the hours convenient for library business, namely, from 8:30 a.m. till 9:30 p.m., and a failure to do so works a special hardship upon those whose business engagements during the day do not allow them to come to the library until the evening.

The board respectfully submits that there is no reason why the large number of ladies and others who can only visit the library street 5 p.m. should be deprived of the use of the elevator simply because they cannot visit the library between the hours when the other offices in the City Hall are pen.

Mr. Wirsching moved that if the Board of Education and the Library Directors pay one-half of the total expense then that the elevator be run.

A motion to refer to the Finance Committee was lost and Mr. Wirsching's motion prevailed.

RETRENCHMENT.

The Special Committee on Retrenchment submitted the following report:

Your committee, to whom was referred matters of retrenchment in connection with the administration of the financial affairs of the city, report as follows:

We have given a careful and minute examination into the affairs of the various departments, and present with our report an ordinance embodying the changes which we would suggest as being all that can be roade at this time. There are other changes which have been suggested to your committee and which will in time be probably made, but we believe that it is the interest of good government and a faithful administration of the affairs of the city no other changes should be made just at this time.

In the matter of the communication of the Police Commissioners, asking that they be allowed to employ specials in their discretion, we would advise that said request be denied, as we deem it unadvisable to set a precedent of this kind. Respectfully submitted.

James Swift is a man of progressive He believes in the equal distribution of wealth, the abolition of toil and the suppression of the capitalist. Yesterday evening he collected a crowd on lower Los Angeles street and addressed them on the subject of "Temperance." As he was himself decidedly under the influence, Officer Halloran interfered and requested him to go home. Swift refused to do so, and proposed that the officer and himself should commence the evangelization of the world by burning down every commercial house on Los Angeleastreet. As the officer would not join him in that playful freak Swift produced a big butcher-knife, and threatened to abolish Halloran by installments. The officer took him to the station, where he was charged with carrying a concealed weapon. own Company.

It is an application on the part of e plaintiff asking for a writ of man-mus from the District Court, com-iling the San Diego Town Company camus from the District Court, company to obey the injuction granted by Chief lustice Field, at the last sitting of the supreme Court held in Los Angeles.

The San Diego company erected a sam across the Sweetwater River, and included in the site of its reservoir de acres of land belonging to the plaintiff. The State law of California directs that previously to land being acquired for public improvements, due compensation shall have been made, but the San Diego company could come to no satisfactory terms with Mr. Neale, and constructed the dam, leaving it to the courts to decide what compensation Mr. Neale should receive. At the first trial in the State courts, the juty swarded to Mr. Neale the sum of $350 per acre, but on appeal by the defendants, the plaintiff was awarded by the jury the sum of $350 per acre for the $50 acres taken by the San Diego company. Mr. Deakin considers that this is a very low price to be paid for the land.

The public must take, into consider-

The public must take into consideration "the fact that these 350 acres are virtually the heart of a 1900-acre tract, the balance of which is considerably diminished in value by the large body of water adjoining it. The shade tress which formerly covered the 350 acres are now gone, and the mountain and dry mess land is virtually worthless."

"The question to be considered in value, but its value for reservoir purposes. Deducting from the site of the reservoir the land acquired from Mr. Neale, the San Diego Company would have in its reservoir only 500,000,000 gallons of water, whereas it now contains 6,000,000,000 gallons. It has, therefore, 2500 inches of water, and as during the boom $1000 an inch was considered a very fair price for irrigation purposes, it acquired by using Mr. Neale's land for a reservoir site a property whose total value was $2,500,000."
Mr. Deakin thinks that the papers have not been treating his client fairly, as they have entirely overlooked the fact that 25,000 acres of dry mesa land owned by the San Diego Town and Land Company previously to constructing the reservoir, and then worth $50 an acre, was, after the construction of the reservoir, held by it at $400 an acre.

MATERIAL GHOSTS.

AN BAST SIDE HAUNTED HOUSE

What a Party Who Camped in the Building Sunday Night Discov-ered—A Pair of Lovers Who Went There to Bill and Coo.

East Los Angeles people are con-siderably worked up over a little ex-posure made in a vacant house last Sunday night. It seems that during the past few weeks strange noises have been heard in the house and the owner, thinking it was being occupied by tramps, made up his mind to break the gang up if possible. He called at the East Side police station and in-formed Capt. McKeag of what he believed was going on in his house. The detective visited the house and made a thorough investigation. The house had been vacant some time and the owner been vacant some time and the owner had taken everything in the way of furniture out of it, but the officers found a bundle of fancy bed clothing in one of the closets. The clothes were of the very finest material, and one could see at a glance that the owner belonged to a family in good circumstances.

The officers were puzzled to know how such a lay-out could have been left in the house, but the owner of the place declared that he knew nothing place declared that he knew nothing about it, and had never before seen it. The officers camped in the house several nights, but no one came, and they thought it was the old, wornout ghost story being revived once more. The officers did everything in their power to bring the ghost out, but he refused to walk, and Saturday night they made up their minds to give it up as a bad job.

The owner of the house was not set-isfied, however, and Sunday night he and several of his friends quietly slipped into the house and took up their quarters in a dark corner of the dining.

they discovered that the pair were making their way to the room where the bed-clothes were concealed. The watchers so were much excited that they began to talk among themselves and the cooing couple overheard them.

The male wing of the outilt did not run as the majority of men would have done, but threw wide open the door between the dining-room and his room, and in a voice that meant business asked what the watchers were doing there. The ringleader trembled in his boots and replied:

"Oh; I could not think of such a thing," replied the bold, bad man.

Whipped His Wife.

The residents in the vicinity of the moonshine block were startled this morning by the loud shricks of a woman. Upon investigation it proved to be a man whipping his wife because she had not gone to colton, 200 south spring street, to buy their furnities.

Boston Democrats seem to be in earnest about sending John L. Sullivan to Congress. Extremes meet, in Boston.

THE Special Committee on Retrenchment of the City Council yesterday submitted a report recommending a reduction of salaries, which aggregates $35,000 per annum. The ordinance was subsequently passed.

Five Swedish families arrived at San Luis Obispo last week, direct from the old country. They intend to start a colony. There are good op-portunities in that county for Swedish dairymen and farmers.

A MAN named Eddy of Lincoln county, N. M., tried to pull his rifle from a wagon by the muzzle. His funeral followed in a few days. It was not loaded (the rifle, not the funeral), but its owner went off all the same.

IT is estimated by San Diego engineers that it will cost the people of that city $392,444 to lay water pipe enough to supply 100,000 people with squeeze through for a year or two

GUY E. GROSSE, the agent who sold the new site for the Home for Feeble-minded at Sonoma, made $10,000 by the transaction. Question: How much will be made by an agent of the Insane Asylum Commission? We pro-pose to find out, and "when found, make a note on't."

Sr. Louis is making a bold bid for the world's fair, and it almost looks at present as if the fight was between that city and Chicago, as New York does little except talk. St. Louis claims to have a guarantee fund of $5,000,000 and that it has a larger population within a radius of 500 miles than either New York or Chicago.

THE Treasury Department has issued a circular to collectors of customs which will give much satisfaction on Collectors are instructed to make Chinese laborers, claiming to be in transit, present a through ticket across the whole United States territo be traversed, with all other available evidence of good faith, together with an indemnity bond in at least $200, signed by the company issuing the ticket, or other responsible party, that the journey must be made within 20 days. Now, if our Mexican and Canadian frontiers can be guarded there will be a good chance of keeping our present Chinese population from being largely increased.

N. H. HOSMER, the orange-grower gives this timely suggestion: to your trees where the Australian ladybug seems to have done its work hly; and, if you have not already done so, remove the dirt from about the body of the tree for at least three inches in depth, and you will probably find the base of the tree covered with living white scale. The ladybug cannot reach scale so situated without your assistance; and as the parasites disappear when they no nger find scale to feed upon, it will whole board does not come, behe members divide up to visit the different establishments, and because, also, it is not considered necessary that all should be here. The Times has already given its opinion, without re-serve or equivocation, of the absurd nd exaggerated reports published by an irresponsible, mercenary, gophering heet regarding the treatment to veterans at the home are subjected chronic dissatisfaction and liquor are the principal causes of the trouble that scarcely a sober man in the insti-tution is dissatisfied; that the chief complainers are, as a rule, men who are unworthy of unbelief, and that the Governor is a good Republican (though politics have no place in such an insti tution), also a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and a gallant ex-soldier, who has shed some blood

These statements we made deliber These statements we made deliberately and advisedly, founding them upon the result of a careful investigation by reliable representatives of this paper. We admitted that the fare might be improved in some details, but showed that there was no excuse whatever for the senseless scare which the Trombone attempted to make. At the same time, our investigations developed the fact that the congenial person whom the editor of the Trombone had hired to work up these charges is a jailbird, a swindler and an utterly discount, also fallow. disreputable fellow. That the pape employing him is the unreliable and mercenary private organ of a man of otoriously bad reputation and worth less character, it was scarcely necessary for us to state, as that fact is well known to a large majority of the residents of Southern California.

This is an from one home to another. old thing to the members of the board They have been used to such affairs for twenty years past, and will soon settle the status of the present small empest. They are men of experience—men of nerve, clear heads and inde pendence—who cannot be influenced by anything short of plain evidence Much less can they be stampeded a newspaper "racket."

By investigating a little further, the board could find that the reasons which influenced the publication of these charges were a desire on the

It is too late for the person of un-savory reputation who has circulated these trumped-up charges against a brave officer to withdraw, now. The issue is plain. The charges are either true or false. The Trombone has, s score of times, guaranteed their according racy. Now, we shall see!

IT MUST NOT BE.

THE TIMES has devoted considerable attention to the location of the site for the Southern California Insane Asy-The question is one which appeals to all humanitarians.

Latest advices are to the effect that three of the commissioners-Messrs Brown of San Bernardino, Severance of Los Angeles and Kerr of San Dieg -have resolved to unite in favor of a location on Severance's Muscupia be ranch, six and a half miles San Bernardino, the (hot water supply of which would come from Gov. Waterman's land. It is reported that Mr. Severance threat ens, if his land is not selected, to stand in with these who desire to locate the asylum in some other county.

From a citizen of San Bernardino we learn that the proposed site is in a de-pression, at the mouth of a canon, treeless, waterless and "hotter than Yuma." It is scarcely necessary Yuma." It is scarcely necessary to remark that the location of a site for an insane asylum in such a spot would be a crime. In fact, the contemplation of such a step, on the part of men who lay claims to respectability, is calculated to cause one to blush for humanity. It would be bad enough to locate a colony of convicted convicts on such a site, but when it is a question of a refuge for unfortunates, suffering from the greatest misfortune which can befall mankind, one is verbe but a short time till the scale will be as thick as ever if a few are left at the root of the tree protected by a covering of dirt. Expose these few remaining scale to the attack of the ladybug before the latter are all gone."

which can befall mankind, one is veritable one is the degree of moral ossification which a human being must have reached who will calmly discuss systems admitted, when questioned tonight in regard to the statements by Mr. Mayer of Chicago, that an initial payment had been women in such a hell hole, for the will thereby be personally gained.

Several other far superior location have been offered; for instance, one Harlem Springs and another at Baning. Action is, we understand, to taken on the 5th or 7th of this mont Let us hope that an outraged publication of the San Bernardino prewill force the selection of another site even at the eleventh hour.

Thus far there has been no official outgiving—and none was expected in advance—as to the mode of conducting the examination at the Soldiers' Home, which begins today. It is known, however, that the court will be run by the judges themselves, sitting in banc, or on benches, as the case may be, and that "the court knows have!" It is not mailton that the herself." It is not unlikely that the members of the self-constituted Grand Army Committee may be summo before the managers, one by one, and asked to tell what they really know as individuals. They should be treated with as much consideration as an equal number of citizens, or citizen-sol-diers professing to have knowledge on the subject.

THE Board of Managers of Soldiers' Homes stole a march on the newspaper men very gracefully in reaching the home, near Santa Monica, and remain-ing there nearly 24 hours before their presence was made known. Brief interviews made by a Times reporter with Col. Harris, acting president of the board, and Col. Thomas, Governor of the home at Dayton, show that, while they express no opinion as to the mangement of the local home, they approach the investigation with de liberation and fairness. The inquiry will be taken up today, and will do less be prosecuted until the board is fully satisfied and ready to render its

THE City Council yesterday did a remarkable thing in selling the $100,000 school bonds to the Southern Calitornia National Bank, when W. J. Hayes & Co. of Cleveland offered $477.50 more for them. A short time ago the Council refused to let a Los Angeles bank pay interest on the city funds, under the plea that the money would go out of the county. Now they keep $100,000 of outside money from coming in for the sake of favor ing a local bank. The Council will probably, as usual, have some plausible explanation for this action, but the public will retain its impression of such remarkable financiering.

An official demand having already been made upon some of the fellows of the C. M. Farobanks and Myman Friday Tarbull stripe to walk up to the rack, fodder or no fodder, and make good their hasty charges against the management of the Soldiers' Home, it is reported that a disposition is manitested, even so soon, to "flunk." "I have no specific charges to make," said one of the gang yesterday, (and he was one of those heretofore most noisy, too.) when summoned to the arena of justice which it is certain the brave houses and show "itself to be a sound to b brave, honest and sharp-witted managers will establish for the coming institution, and not be left to the Legislature. The woman suffragists are openly and determinedly working against the adoption of the Constitution.

THE grand National Silver Convenn, which is to be held at St. Louis on November 26th, is now an assured uccess. Committees are hard at work, and hundreds of letters are being received from all parts of the country.

THE Trombone and the Trombone's iail-bird "commissioner" will not be quite such big bugs, now the commissioners are here, as they were a couple of weeks ago, when they "enlisted for the war."

Now let the self-constituted friends "battle-scarred veterans prove their charges.

BRING on your proofs! AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.- The Irish con edy element when well presented is a never failing source of amusement, and never failing source of amusement, and affords a pleasant relief from the tension of Shakespearean tragedy on the one hand and the bewildering complications of modern melo-drama on the other hand. The Irishman has been put upon the stage in almost every aspect of his character; mainly with a view to raise a laugh, and the view is apparently an inexhaustitile one. Messrs, Murray and Murpay are a pair of good Irish comedians and in their sketch as presented last night were successful in extracting the maximum of applause from a very well-filled house.

Murray is especially clever in delineating a quiet form of humor and has a little chuckling laugh which is irresistibly funny. The sketch is of the lightest kind of material, making no claim to plot or coherence. It is merely the vehicle for the introduction of a number of songs and danges and a quantity of repartee which is of the average minstrel type.

The ladies of the plees are quite up to the requirements of their respective roles, and one of them plays a cornet solo very sweetly. In the third act of the piece the fun drags a little, but the two first acts are well constructed for laughing purposes, and the applause of the audience was sufficient to testify their approval of the performance. The place will be repeated tonight. affords a pleasant relief from the tension of

PACIFIC ROADS.

Commissioner Taylor's Annual Report.

Ruinous Rate Wars the Cause of Bankrupt Railways.

The Interstate Act Not Responsible for Present Evils.

inclai Standing of the Roads to the Government-Suggestions as to Securing Uncle Sam's Claims,

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—[By the Associated Press.] Horace A. Taylor, Commissioner of Railroads, has made his annual report to the Secretary of the Interior. He reviews the railroad situation and rate wars of the past year. He declares that the unfavorable railroad situation is not due to the Interstate Law, as claimed, but to those unjustifiable rate wars and the unnecessary extension of new lines. He says a number of railroads which received land grants from States refuse to report to him, for the reason that such grants were made by the respective States in which the roads were located, and not by the United States, and respective States in which the roads were located, and not by the United States, and assert, therefore, that they do not come within the language of Congress creating this bureau and defining its powers. The position taken by those companies would seem to be technical and evasive. The lands were owned by the United States and granted by acts of Congress to States, for the sole purpose of aiding in the construction of railroads. The companies releved the full benefits of the grants, and referred the matter to the Secretary of the Interior for judicial action.

The Commissioner says there have been no inspections and no examinations of the books and accounts of the railroads, subject to the supervision of his bureau, made by him during the current year, covered by this report, previous to his appointment as Commissioner July 17, 1859. He is therefor unable to make the report as full and complete as it otherwise might have been. Since his appointment, however, an examination of several railroads in which the Government has pecuniary interests has been made.

WHAT THE ROADS OWE.

WHAT THE ROADS OWE. The total liabilities of the Union Pacific to the Government June 30, 1889, was 161,269,792. The excess of interest paid by to the Government June 30, 1889, was $51,269,793. The excess of interest paid by the United States over all credits amounts to $17,730,280. The total Hability of the company was $225,520,159. The assets amounted to $77,304,723.

The Hability of the Central Pacific to the Government is $52,256,734. The excess of interest paid by—the United States over credits was $24,401,054. The total debt of the company was $125,290,165 and the capital stock $68,000,000. The assets amounted to $222,767,362. There was a net decrease in assetsidering the year of $732,835. The sinking fund of the Union and Central Pacific combanies, held by the Secretary of the Treasnry, amounted to $13,513,604.

The Stoux City and Pacific Railroad received bonds from the United States amounting to $1,023,320 to aid in the construction of 1014 miles. The interest paid by the United States amounts to $2,050,492, and there has been retained by the treasury on account of transportation services $153,509, leaving the aggregate amount due the Government $1,525,303. The excess of interest paid by the United States over credits was $1,856,983.

The subsidiary portion of the Central Branch of the Union Pacific received bonds to the amount of $1,600,000. The aggregate obtained to the Government at the end of the Gov board could find that the reasons which influenced the publication of these charges were a desire on the part of the mercenary private organ to get control of the Governor's place, and give it to one of the retainers of the home for political purposes. It is the home for political purposes. It is place have already been made to more than one person. We can "name names" if need be.

There is now a good chance for those who have been so brash with their charges against the management of the home to to come forward and make good those charges. Every possible facility will be afforded them, as individuals, to do so. To a "man up a tree," it looks as if the Trombone was beginning to flunk. In its last article on the subject, it asserted its willingness to leave the question with the Grand Army of the Republic Committee! Just so! This is quite a different style of talk from that in which it previously indulged, when BUINOUS RATE WARS.
The Commissioner discusses th mainly due to restrictive laws which of late have been enacted by Congress and in many of the Western States. In some States, notably lows, it is undoubtedly true that the laws have been enforced which are unjust to railroads and injurious to public interest and which ought to be modified or repealed. Most of the legislation for the regulation of railway traffic within the States has been wisely conservative and was as surely demanded for the protection of the public against unjust charges and discriminations in local trade, as was the interstate commerce law to protect commerce between States. I believe, in many sections of the West, conspicuously in lowa and Kansas, the mileage of railroads is greatly in excess of the legitluste needs of the carrying trade. If this be true, then many ef the investments in railroad properties there must tall to yield remuerative dividends or trade. It his be true, then many et the inrestments in railroad properties there must fall to yield remunerative dividends or schedules of rates must be fixed so high as to prove railrously burdensome to traffic.

For this unfortunate condition of affairs neither the people nor the railroad companies are wholly to blame. Both have contributed to bring it about.

A DIFFICULT PROBLEM.
"This condition of things presents a problem difficult of solution. It is safe to say lem difficult of solution. It is safe to say the remedy does not lie in the levying of extortionate charges or the waging of reckless rate wars. The security of a railway system lies in administering it with a careful respect to justice and the public welfare. If its oppressive hand is laid too heavily upon the people, revenge and revolt will be sure to follow. If investors in railroad properties have expended their capital in the construction of lines not demanded by the present trade, then they must share the fate of all who invest in unproductive enterprises. Relief can only come through increased settlement, stimulating business and developing natural resources. "Both the interests of the railroads and the public," says the Commissioner, "suffer from the fact that railroad managers devote their energies too largely to securing trade from competing centers and do not sufficiently encourage the development of local traffic."

SOME RECOMMENDATIONS.
The Commissioner dwells at la The Commissioner dwells at length the problem of securing to the Government the problem of securing to the Government the payment of the amounts due from the bonded roads. He says he has come to the concussion that the most feasible plan to be adopted is to grant a reasonable extension of time with a reduced rate of interest and require payment of a certain per cent. of the gross earnings of the road, to be applied in liquidating their indebtedness to the Government. This would relieve the railroad companies from the embarrassment that might come to them were they required to pay fixed sums at stated periods. In times of business depression, when receipts were light, their obligations to pay would be correspondingly reduced, while in prosperous years they could afford to make increased payments. All these companies own or operate various lines in addition to these subsidized. The Government has no claim on the earnings of these mon-subsidized lines, and traffic may be diverted, either naturally or with a purpose, from the alded to the non-aided lines, and various changes in the expense accounts may be entered up against the alded nor-st to 3 or 4 per traings from all G by subsidized co tation by subsidized companies, on all lines operated by them, whether aided or not aided, should be applied to the payment of any interest due or to become due within the fiscal year in which the service might be rendered, prohibiting the payment of any dividends by subsidized companies unless such companies have paid all interest on their bonded debt, having a lien prior to the Government, and all matured indebtedness and interest then due, and such percentage of the gross earnings of the subsidized lines as by careful estimates would realize sum; aufficient to pay the accruing interest and aufficient to pay the accruing interest and as by careful estimates would realize sufficient to pay the accruing interest raise a sinking fund that would mee principal of the debts at their mat Sald companies should also be permitt refund the first mortgage bonds under novisions as would present any increase.

refund the first mortgage bonds under such provisions as would prevent any increase in debt which is allowed priority over the debt due the United States.

The Commissioner makes recommendations for amendments of various kinds; among them, one that all accounts of those railroads be rendered through his office instead of going direct to the different departments, as in the past; as, says he, it is important that there be some bureau of the Government in which can be found full information as to the accounts between the bonded railroads and the United States. There are now millions of dollars of unsettled bills pigeonoholed in various departments of the Treasury, and it is due to the railroad companies that all these accounts be promptly adjusted, and that such sums as are legally their due be credited or paid them. It is also to the interest of the Government to know the exact condition of its accounts with these companies.

The edifice was built by Thomas Dillon and sons eight years ago. They ran it until about three years ago, when it was sold to a syndicate of gentlemen residing in various parts of the valley, and was incorporated under the name of the Olive Milling, Land and Improvement Company.

BOARD OF MANAGERS.

About It-A "Times" Reporter

A representative of THE TIMES went out to the Soldiers' Home last night, having learned that the Board of Managers had arrived and were at the home. Upon arrival it was found that Col. Leonard A. Harris, acting president of the board, and Col. J. B. Thomas, governor of the Soldiers' Home at Dayton, O., had arrived Sunday morning, stealing a march upon the Los Angeles newspaper men. They spent Sunday and yesterday in a

They spent sunday and yesterday in a general inspection of the home, without entering at all into details.

The formal investigation of the charges brought against Gov. Treichel will begin this morning at 10 o'clock, and the inmates of the home will have a full chance to present their grievances and have an impartial hearing upon them.

The board, sitting in its annual inspection of the home, will consist of Col. Leonard Harris, Col. J. B. Thomas and Col. H. H. Markham.

When the Times representative said to Col. Harris that he had succeeded in sliding the previous men.

to Col. Harris that he had succeeded in eluding the newspaper men, he remarked that it was not the purpose of the committee to herald its approach with a brass band. He said in regard to the work of the board that it has almost come to be a bureau of the Government, and is regulated newadays more strictly than ever before. The appropriations for the branch homes are very closely scrutinized by Congress, and are so systematized that the transfer of funds from a fund that has a surplus to one that is exhausted is not allowable. Estimates are made for maintenance and for construction, and maintenance and for construction, and when the funds are exhausted Congress is the only recourse for the governors.

Col. Harris was questioned in relation to the complaints in other homes, and said that with 16,000 men to care for old soldiers with many allments.

Col. Harris was questioned in relation to the complaints in other homes, and said that with 16,000 men to care for, old soldiers with many aliments, it is but natural that there should be complaints. They frequently come up in the other branches, and have been the source of much investigation and disturbance in other homes.

"I wish to say this, however," said Col. Harris, "I have observed that the public is not thoroughly informed as to the management of the homes. It is not possible to manage them without some restraint. Turbulence and insubordination must be regulated, in order to prevent demoralization. It is not possible to manage the homes without some restraint, and there are necessarily men who do not brook restraint very well. The mistake that the public makes is that complaints have no proper place for a hearing, and for ample justice being done. The proper place for a complaint is before the Governor, and it is his duty to hear them. If the complainant is not satisfied, he has the right of an appeal to the Board of Managers. They meet four times a year to inspect the homes in the country and give every soldier a chance to be heard. There is no diaget of any after effects upon him. He is privileged to speak his mind and speak if fully, and there is no necessity for appealing to outside sources. All who are familiar with the workings of the homes in the country know this and the soldiers know it also."

Col. Thomas said to a Times reporter that his impressions of the location of the home are very favorable. The lands lie beautifully for improvement, and he believe it will be a beautiful place as the home is put under improvement. He thinks also that it will be a very healthful place.

A Store Burned. An alarm of fire was turned in a 10:20 last night from First and Alameda streets. Engines 3 and 4 were quickly on the scene, and they found frame building on the corner of Hewitt and Davis streets completely gutted by the flames. The building was used by H. J. Holland as a grocery store, and he carried a very complete stock of goods. The store and its contents were a total loss, and the firemen devoted their efforts to preventing the flames irom spreading to the adjoining buildings. The building itself was not insured, but the stock carried an insurance of $800 in the Home Company of California and the Home Company of New York. The total loss was about $1400. frame building on the corner of Hewitt

Abusive Customers

At 6:30 yesterday evening, Angel Urquidas and Dominquez Labori walked into Guerrero's store on Upper Main street and demanded 25 cents' worth of candles. Several ladies were worth of candles. Several ladies were making purchases at the time, and the clerks did not immediately attend upon them. They reiterated their demand in angry tones and became very abusive, using extremely vulgar language and finally requesting the clerks to come outside and fight. Officer Bosqui was telephoned for, and the two men were placed under arrest and taken to the station, where a charge of disturbing the peace was booked against them.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Straight Talk and Hard Facts.
Soldiers' Home, Santa Monica,
ept. 29.—[To the Editor of The TIMES.] I perceive by last Saturday's issue of the Los Angeles Trombone that it still harps on the imaginary or concocted wrongs and brutality that the "old veterans" are still suffering the "old veterans" are still suffering under the hands of Col. Treichel, Governor of the Soldiers' Home, and the most marked and aggravating is the inhuman treatment of those in the hospital of the home. Lest such a lying statement should receive the least credence from the public on this coast, or from those in the Eastern States who are unacquainted with the facts of the matter or the personal characters of those who started this sensation, I wish to say that I have had the opportunity of knowing, and herewith describe, the treatment that the veterans in the hospital have received from the subsistence department. Each day Dr. Haas prepared a list of the names of those under treatment in the hospital, and prescribed what food or delicacy each man was to receive for that day, the name of the article or articles being placed opposite their respective names for breakfast, dinner and supper, and how it should be prepared. This list was sent each day to the cook, and the cook always complied with those instructions, and when the work became too arduous (cooking also for the home), a special cook was employed to attend to hospital cooking alone; and whatever delicacy was ordered by Dr. Haas, if not on hand, was promptly ordered and furnished. I now but refer to the supply of those for each month. Since the 16th day of last March, when the hospital was first opened, such delicacies as fresh eggs, farina, cornstarch, dressed fowl and a continual supply of lemons and sugar for lemonade, without reference to direct order, were always supplied, together with sweet milk for use at meals when so directed, whether or not in lieu of tea or coffee, and also for custard, cornstarch, farina, mush or otherwise. This in addition to the ordinary bill of fare.

Assuredly this does not look like a deprivation of care or delicacy, no matter what the "Trombone" asserts to the contrary. I appeal to Dr. Haas to refute or confirm this statement. In fact, it is publicly due from him in justice to Col. Treichel, and in refutation of the ly under the hands of Col. Treichel, Gov ernor of the Soldiers' Home, and th

REMARKABLE EVENTS OF

awrence, the American Naval Hero-"Don't Give Up the Ship"
-The Romanoffs and Their Murderers—The "Musical Small-coal-

Capt. James Lawrence, the American naval hero, was born at Burlington, N.J., October 1, 1781. He entered the navy as a midshipman in 1798, and was promoted to the lieutenancy in 1802. Lawrence distinguished him-self at the bombardment of Tripoli, and rose to eminence in the war of 1812. He was given the command of the Hornet, and near the mouth of the Demerara River he captured the British war sloop Peacock, February 24, 1813, for which service he received from Congress a gold medal, and was promoted to the command of the Chesapeake. Capt. Lawrence was mortally wounded in the engagement with the British frigate Shannon, October I, 1813. This was the most desperate sea-fight of the war, the Americans not surrendering until nearly all their officers were killed or wounded. Capt. Lawrence, while being carried below, uttered his since celebrated exclamation.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP!"
He died in Halifax, July 5th. This distinguished officer lies buried in Trinity Churchyard, New York, where his monument is the chief object of in-

Trinity Churchyard, New York, where his monument is the chief object of interest.

Emperor Paul I. of Russia, son of the Empress Catherine II. and Czar Peter III., was born October 1, 1754. The harsh treatment which he received from his mother unsettled his faculties and produced partial insanity, and his eccentricities led to a conspiracy of Count Pahlan and other nebles, who strangled him on the evening of Makch 23, 1801, and thus died Paul after the regular fashion of the Romanoff house, most of the Russian Emperors having died a violent death. A few days afterward Alexander I. was crowned. Before him marched his grandfather's murderers, beside him those of his father and behind him his own. Count Pahlan's ambition was to govern the young monarch, but he was not to reap the fruits of his crime. The Empress-mother insisted upon the banishment of the murderers of Paul I. In the retirement of his country estate, where he lived a long time, the Count on the 23d of March made himself drunk from daybreak, in order to pass in oblivion the dreaded anniversary, which awoke in his mind a remorse which was only slumbering.

MUSICAL SMALL-COALMAN

The MUSICAL SMALL-COALMAN is a phrase familiar to all students of the history of music. The person thus indicated was Thomas Britton, who was buried in Clerken well churchyard, October 1, 1714. While gaining his livelihood by pursuing his humble occupation, this remarkable man contrived, by his various talents, and especially by his musical taste, to draw around him the most aristocratic company in London, at a time when society was much more exclusive than it is at the present day. The small-coalman's house was occupied on the ground floor with coal stoves, above which was a long, narrow room, reached by a breakneds staircase from the outside. In this modest salon, Britton held those musical reunions which were attended by the great and fashionable, and at which the celebrated Handel did not disdain to exhibit his talents for the entertainment of the company. Sir Roger l'Estrange originated these concerts, he, with other gentlemen, having been taken with Britton's conversation and manners, so much above his station in life. Elegantly-attired ladies, too, from the most fashionable quarter of London thronged to his humble mansion, and in the pleasure of the concert forgot the trouble they had undergone in ascending to the hall of performance. It was fashionable in those days for noblemen to frequent the bookseller's shop in search of old books and manuscript and to bring up at the end of their rounds at the shop of Christopher Bateman, a bookseller in Paternoster Row. About this time Thomas Britton would make his appearance, having inshed his round, and, depositing his sack of small-coal on the ledge of Mr. Bateman's window, would go in and join the distinguished company. Here his skill in old books and manuscript was no less conspicuous than the orrectness of his musical taste, and renis a phrase familiar to all students of the history of music. The person thus his skill in old books and manuscript was no less conspicuous than the cor-rectness of his musical taste, and ren-dered him a most useful acquisition. Such was the musical small-coalman who filled such a large space in the his-tory of music and letters.

Henry St. John,

VISCOUNT BOLINGBROKE, one of the most remarkable men of the eighteenth century, was born in Surrey, England, October 1, 1678. He entered Parliament as a Tory in 1701, and from 1704 to 1708 was Secretary of War. In 1710 Bolingbroke became Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Cabinet of which Harley was Premier. He was the principal negotiator of the Treaty of Utrecht, by which the long war of the Spanish succession was brought to a close. He was created Viscount Bolingbroke in 1712, and in 1714 succeeded Harley, Earl of Oxford, as Prime Minister of England. The death of Queen Anne, however, which occurred August 1, 1714, deprived him of power and defeated his plans for the restoration of the Stuart dynasty. In 1715 he escaped to France, where he entered the service of the Pretender, and in his absence was impeached and attainted. In 1723 he was permitted to return to England, but was refused admission to the House of Lords. His numerous political works are distinguished by grace, terseness and brilliancy. HOW THIS POPULAR ESTABLISH MENT BENEFITS PATRONS.

Well-bought Articles Never Ruine by Placing Enormous Profits Thereon-Great Success of Yesterday's Sale.

PROPILE'S STORE,

LOS ANOLLES, Oct 1, 1889.

We do not contend that we shore are purchasers of good values; we believe others probably get a bargain now and them. Yet we never spoil a well-bought article by piscing thereon a large profit. Some merchants think only a certain number of customers buy any way, and they want to take a good profit while they have a chance. We never attempt to place a limit on our mercantile field, narrowing the chances by addisg big profits, when we know small ones double, yes, triple our sales. A well-bought article is a good thing, but a meritoriously sold one is still better. We are reachers for trade, and our popular prices yield us the surest and most lasting success. As was the case yesterday, thousands and tens of thousands of patrons visited us; all pleased with our values, and byreading throughout every corner of the town bargains that are monuments of advertisements for us. As we said yesterday, we never do things by halves, and the public know this, for when we announce a saic the crowd of patrons test our ability even with the huge force to wait on all in the proper manner. The result's gratifying, if even not in dollars and cents, only too know that the public have confidence in our announcements.
